The Purchaser will examine the Proposals to determine whether they are complete, whether any computational errors have been made, whether the documents have been properly signed, and whether the Proposals are generally in order.

Arithmetical errors will be rectified on the following basis: If there is a discrepancy between the unit price and the total price that is obtained by multiplying the unit price and quantity, the unit price shall prevail and the total price shall be corrected. If the Offeror does not accept the correction of errors, its Proposal will be rejected. If there is a discrepancy between words and figures the amount in words will prevail.

Prior to the detailed evaluation, the Purchaser will determine the substantial responsiveness of each Proposal to the Request for Proposals (RFP). For purposes of these Clauses, a substantially responsive Proposal is one which conforms to all the terms and conditions of the RFP without material deviations. The Purchaser's determination of a Proposal's responsiveness is based on the contents of the Proposal itself without recourse to extrinsic evidence.

A Proposal determined as not substantially responsive will be rejected by the Purchaser and may not subsequently be made responsive by the Offeror by correction of the non-conformity.

22. Evaluation and comparison of proposals

A three-stage procedure will be utilised in evaluating the proposals, with evaluation of the technical proposal being completed prior to any price proposal being opened and compared. The price schedule/financial proposal of the Proposals will be opened only for submissions that passed the minimum technical score of 70% of the obtainable score of 700 points in the evaluation of the technical proposals.

The technical proposal is evaluated on the basis of its responsiveness to the Term of Reference (TOR) and the Instructions to Offerors.

Lowest Price

In the Second Stage, the price proposal of all contractors, who have attained minimum 70% score in the technical evaluation will be compared. The contract will be awarded to the Contractor offering the lowest price.

Cumulative Analysis

In the third Stage, the price proposal of all contractors, who have attained minimum 70% score in the technical evaluation, will be compared. The cumulative analysis scheme will be applied with a total score being obtained upon the combination of weighted technical and financial attributes. An Offeror's response to the solicitation document is evaluated and points are attributed based on how well they meet the defined desirable criteria. Cost under this method of analysis is rendered as an award criterion, which will be 30% out of a total score of 1000 of all the desirable factors of the RFP. The contract will be awarded to the offeror obtaining the highest cumulative score. The following formula will be applied in calculating the cumulative score:

$$B = T + \frac{C_{low}}{C} \times 300,$$

where

$T$  – is the total technical score awarded to the evaluated proposal;

$C$  – is the price of the evaluated proposal; and

$C_{low}$  – is the lowest of all evaluated proposal prices among responsive proposals.

I. Position Information

Tender Title:	Provision of Research Services to UNDP Moldova
Project Title:	Scaling-up the response to HIV/AIDS in the Uniformed Services of Moldova
Supervisor:	Project Coordinator Assistant
Duration of task implementation:	1 month (May- June, 2009)

II. Background

The project is working with the armed forces of Moldova – the National Army, the Border Guards and the Carabineers – to target people in uniform (an estimated number of 10000, with an annual turnover of 5000 in recruits) and through them – their peers and their families (around 30000 yearly) – with communication and direct outreach prevention work. The project also deal with government officials, decision-makers and commanders in the armed forces, local public authorities and NGOs to strengthen their capacity in developing, implementing, monitoring and evaluating HIV/AIDS/STI plans and activities. HIV/AIDS/STI programming is a coordinated effort to deal with the impact of HIV/AIDS/STIs.

This project aims at supporting the development of effective mechanisms for comprehensive HIV/STI prevention measures in the uniformed services in Moldova. The project activities will aim to prevent HIV and other health risks, such as drug abuse and sexually transmitted infections among uniformed personnel.

Under the second phase, the project intends to conduct a research targeting to assess militaries knowledge, attitudes and practices on HIV/AIDS. The comparative similar study was held in 2007. The data collection was carried out in March and April 2007. Respondents filled the questionnaires at their military units. Comparative analysis was done on the basis of the preliminary research of the informative campaign and the post-informative campaign research.

The target group of research was military recruits form the National Army, the Border Guards and the Gendarmes. A total of 525 questionnaires were collected. The highest level was registered by respondents from the Gendarmes (82.5%) the Border Guards (81.4%) and the lowest level was registered by the respondents from the National Army (69.4%).

The comparative analysis of results of before and after informing researches regarding the testing of knowledge about the possible ways of HIV/AIDS contamination from HIV-positive person, clearly reveals an increasing of the level of correct knowledge concerning the modalities of HIV/AIDS transmission.
