To assist in the examination, evaluation and comparison of Proposals, the Purchaser may at its discretion, ask the Offeror for clarification of its Proposal. The request for clarification and the response shall be in writing and no change in price or substance of the Proposal shall be sought, offered or permitted.

21. Preliminary examination

The Purchaser will examine the Proposals to determine whether they are complete, whether any computational errors have been made, whether the documents have been properly signed, and whether the Proposals are generally in order.

Arithmetical errors will be rectified on the following basis: If there is a discrepancy between the unit price and the total price that is obtained by multiplying the unit price and quantity, the unit price shall prevail and the total price shall be corrected. If the Offeror does not accept the correction of errors, its Proposal will be rejected. If there is a discrepancy between words and figures the amount in words will prevail.

Prior to the detailed evaluation, the Purchaser will determine the substantial responsiveness of each Proposal to the Request for Proposals (RFP). For purposes of these Clauses, a substantially responsive Proposal is one which conforms to all the terms and conditions of the RFP without material deviations. The Purchaser's determination of a Proposal's responsiveness is based on the contents of the Proposal itself without recourse to extrinsic evidence.

A Proposal determined as not substantially responsive will be rejected by the Purchaser and may not subsequently be made responsive by the Offeror by correction of the non-conformity.

22. Evaluation and comparison of proposals

A two-stage procedure will be utilised in evaluating the proposals, with evaluation of the technical proposal being completed prior to any price proposal being opened and compared. The price schedule/ financial proposal of the Proposals will be opened only for submissions that passed the minimum technical score of 70% of the obtainable score of 700 points in the evaluation of the technical proposals.

The technical proposal is evaluated on the basis of its responsiveness to the Terms of Reference (TOR) and the Instructions to Offerors.

In the Second Stage, the price proposal of all contractors, who have attained minimum 70% score in the technical evaluation, will be compared. The cumulative analysis scheme will be applied with a total score being obtained upon the combination of weighted technical and financial attributes. An Offeror's response to the solicitation document is evaluated and points are attributed based on how well they meet the defined desirable criteria. Cost under this method of analysis is rendered as an award criterion, which will be 30% out of a total score of 1000 of all the desirable factors of the RFP. The contract will be awarded to the offeror obtaining the highest cumulative score. The following formula will be applied in calculating the cumulative score:

$$B = T + \frac{C_{low}}{C} \times 300,$$

where

T – is the total technical score awarded to the evaluated proposal;

C – is the price of the evaluated proposal; and

C_{low} – is the lowest of all evaluated proposal prices among responsive proposals.

TERMS OF REFERENCE

Provision of Training for public servants on PPP development

A. Background

Generally a Public-Private Partnership is recognized by many sources as a contractual agreement between a public agency (central or local) and a private sector entity. Through this agreement, the skills and assets of each sector (public and private) are shared in delivering a service or facility for the use of the general public. In addition to the sharing of resources, each party shares the potential risks and rewards in the delivery of the service and / or facility.

PPP Development Project is designed as a complementary facility to the many existing initiatives and institutions, and works with a variety of partners at national and local levels with the purpose to increase the capacity of central and local governments to promote, develop, operate and manage public-private partnership projects for infrastructure development and the provision of basic services.

The legal framework in Republic of Moldova includes the recently approved Law on PPP and a series of laws that contain basic provisions to allow the development of PPP projects. Among these laws can be mentioned the law on concessions, leasing, public services of communal utilities, administration and transfer of public property, local public administration. Now, the Ministry of Economy and Trade with the assistance of the PPP Development Project is working on further development of regulatory framework necessary for the implementation of the Law on PPP, on establishing the Department on PPP in the Agency of Public Property, on preparing the set of guidelines and instructions that would be useful to the authorities and private sector.

Considering that the PPP concept is relatively new for the Republic of Moldova, neither the public sector nor the private one have the necessary experience and knowledge in this area so as to ensure the successful development of PPP projects. Even if some PPP projects already exist, most of them are not named appropriately, thus their performances are neither evaluated nor monitored adequately.

Meanwhile, the PPP concept is more invoked by the authorities both on local and central levels as a means for developing the infrastructure facilities and public services. In these conditions, the knowledge and ability of public authorities to develop and implement PPP projects to ensure value for money and respect the legal provisions are of vital importance.
