To assist in the examination, evaluation and comparison of Proposals, the Purchaser may at its discretion, ask the Offeror for clarification of its Proposal. The request for clarification and the response shall be in writing and no change in price or substance of the Proposal shall be sought, offered or permitted.

21. Preliminary examination

The Purchaser will examine the Proposals to determine whether they are complete, whether any computational errors have been made, whether the documents have been properly signed, and whether the Proposals are generally in order.

Arithmetical errors will be rectified on the following basis: If there is a discrepancy between the unit price and the total price that is obtained by multiplying the unit price and quantity, the unit price shall prevail and the total price shall be corrected. If the Offeror does not accept the correction of errors, its Proposal will be rejected. If there is a discrepancy between words and figures the amount in words will prevail.

Prior to the detailed evaluation, the Purchaser will determine the substantial responsiveness of each Proposal to the Request for Proposals (RFP). For purposes of these Clauses, a substantially responsive Proposal is one which conforms to all the terms and conditions of the RFP without material deviations. The Purchaser's determination of a Proposal's responsiveness is based on the contents of the Proposal itself without recourse to extrinsic evidence.

A Proposal determined as not substantially responsive will be rejected by the Purchaser and may not subsequently be made responsive by the Offeror by correction of the non-conformity.

22. Evaluation and comparison of proposals

A two-stage procedure will be utilised in evaluating the proposals, with evaluation of the technical proposal being completed prior to any price proposal being opened and compared. The price schedule/financial proposal of the Proposals will be opened only for submissions that passed the minimum technical score of 70% of the obtainable score of 700 points in the evaluation of the technical proposals.

The technical proposal is evaluated on the basis of its responsiveness to the Term of Reference (TOR) and the Instructions to Offerors.

In the Second Stage, the price proposal of all contractors, who have attained minimum 70% score in the technical evaluation, will be compared. The cumulative analysis scheme will be applied with a total score being obtained upon the combination of weighted technical and financial attributes. An Offeror's response to the solicitation document is evaluated and points are attributed based on how well they meet the defined desirable criteria. Cost under this method of analysis is rendered as an award criterion, which will be 30% out of a total score of 1000 of all the desirable factors of the RFP. The contract will be awarded to the offeror obtaining the highest cumulative score. The following formula will be applied in calculating the cumulative score:

$$B = T + \frac{C_{low}}{C} \times 300,$$

where

T – is the total technical score awarded to the evaluated proposal;

C – is the price of the evaluated proposal; and

C_{low} – is the lowest of all evaluated proposal prices among responsive proposals.

Background

The United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), acting as an implementing agency of the Global Environment Facility (GEF), is providing assistance to the Moldovan Ministry of Environment in the implementation of the GEF Medium Size Project (MSP) “Improving coverage and management effectiveness of the Protected Area System in Moldova”. The protected area system (PAS) of Moldova is not uniformly distributed in the landscape and there are substantial gaps, particularly in terms of steppe habitats, that need to be addressed to ensure the adequate representation of the main types of ecosystems. Protected areas are also highly fragmented in the landscape and are not achieving the conservation objectives for landscape-scale ecological processes. Large number of species, ecosystems and ecological processes are not adequately protected and the management regimes (management objectives, governance types or management effectiveness) of the existing protected areas do not provide full security for particular species or ecosystems.

The project assists the re-validation of protected areas, and their protected area status, within the national PAS. This includes the collation of biodiversity and management data and the assimilation of this data into the national environmental information system. The aim is to aligning the protected area classification and management objectives with the biodiversity significance.

The information on the current conservation status of Moldova’s protected areas (PAs) has significant gaps. An information gap assessment showed that out of a total of 312 Pas, information is (partially or fully) existing for 191 PAs, however information is missing for 121 PAs (summarized in detail in Annex 6). Also there exists no information about the current status of 433 veteran trees from PAs. The detailed report on “Biodiversity of protected areas in Moldova: current knowledge and information gaps” will be presented to the winner and will form part of the contract as the basis for the (re-)validation work. Most protected areas with the exception of the five scientific reserves and the three newly designated Ramsar sites are reportedly not properly demarcated, have limited or no active conservation management, are under constant threat of conversion to productive land uses and are in varying states of bio-physical degradation.

Currently the project performs the evaluation process of the status of biodiversity in Orhei region and its conservation status with the aim of creating the National Park Orhei. This evaluation also covers the 4 PAs within the planned borders of Orhei NP (Landscape Reserve “Trebujeni”, Geological and paleontological nature monument “Amplasament de vertebrate fosile din s. Pocsesti”, Resource reserve “Cernoziom levigat gras al zonei silvice centrale a Moldovei din com.Ivancea”, Monument of landscape architecture “Parcul din satul Ivancea”). The report of this evaluation will be available by the end of 2010.

Scope of the assignment:

The service provider will be responsible for assisting the MoE in reviewing, revising and reforming the current biodiversity significance of incl. collecting and collating an inventory of bio-physical data (rapid assessment based on previous gap analysis and data capture format), and conservation management arrangements for, the individual protected areas making up the protected area system of Moldova. Further, the service provider will identify gaps in the current PAS and make proposals for its consolidation and extension, supporting the systematic biodiversity planning process and spatial analysis of PA priorities. The service provider will cooperate with the forestry and administrative authorities and other agencies involved in the project implementation, as well as with representatives from academia, environmental NGOs in defining priority biodiversity issues and areas that should be key project issues.

Scope of Work

The service provider will:

Support the validation of the individual Protected Areas in the Moldovan Protected Area System

1. Collating existing data and information and conducting rapid field surveys for confirmation/re-validation of bio-physical data and the current conservation status in the protected areas of Moldova mentioned in Annex 6, filling the information gaps based on the data capture form (presented in Annex 7) for each protected area.

Field surveys will be conducted according to the priorities as follows, taking into consideration all the information already existing for each PA:

- In situ assessment of Protected Areas of following categories: Scientific Reserves, Natural monuments (botanical), Nature Reserves, Wetlands of International Importance, Landscape Reserves, Multifunctional PAs (steppe and meadow zones).
 - In situ assessment of Protected Areas of following categories: Nature monuments (except botanical), Resource reserves, Multifunctional PAs (Forest belts), Monuments of landscape architecture, Veteran trees, Dendrological and Zoological Gardens.
2. Take GIS coordinates with GPS for PA Map creation (geobotanical and zoological maps) for main species of plant and animal communities, incl. rare species as well as veteran trees. The data should be provided to the Surveyor expert of the project (who is also responsible for taking GPS coordinates of the borders of the PAs) in electronic version, separate vectorial layers in *.GPX or *.shp format, after each expedition. For mapping of PAs either separated points (POI), for rare and valuable species, etc., or track lines for delimitation of vegetation associations and borders will be used. These coordinates must be supplemented by short description, necessary for development of the table of attributes of each thematic layer.
 3. Provide inputs to the PA planning and management consultant for the completion of the METT scorecard for each individual PA (or groups of PAs). Based on point 1 and 2 and in close collaboration with the PA planning and management consultant, assess the conservation management status of each PA, prepare explicit recommendations for amendments of PA conservation status incl. boundaries, management arrangements, level and category of protection and operational management interventions required for each PA.
 4. Organize in close collaboration with the Project Management Unit and all involved local and international consultants 10 - 12 regional stakeholder workshops, 3 - 4 for each region (North, Center, South) where the results of the field investigations will be presented, management recommendations provided, guidance for an improved management offered. Every workshop will involve all the interested and affected stakeholders (e.g. local public authorities, landowners, management authorities, NGOs etc) involved in PAs management from the 3-4 rayons "sub-region".

Support the preparation of the strategy and implementation plan for the protected area consolidation and expansion

5. Identify spatial gaps in the current Protected Area System and propose new protected areas for the conservation of biodiversity in Moldova, ensuring adequate representation of main types of ecosystems, habitats and species and achievement of conservation objectives, including detailed justification for new protected areas establishment.

Company features:

- Legal entity [grouping of such entities (consortia)] or organized team of experts
- At least 5 years of proven knowledge and in biology, forestry, botany, zoology, biodiversity conservation, PA management; or other relevant fields.
- Proven experience in conducting field surveys for biodiversity of PAs.
- Excellent analytical and reporting skills
- Experience in working with government organizations /local public authorities
- Excellent writing and communication skills in Romanian
- Ability to communicate in English will be an advantage

Deliverables:
