The request for clarification and the response shall be in writing and no change in price or substance of the Proposal shall be sought, offered or permitted.

21. Preliminary examination

The Purchaser will examine the Proposals to determine whether they are complete, whether any computational errors have been made, whether the documents have been properly signed, and whether the Proposals are generally in order.

Arithmetical errors will be rectified on the following basis: If there is a discrepancy between the unit price and the total price that is obtained by multiplying the unit price and quantity, the unit price shall prevail and the total price shall be corrected. If the Offeror does not accept the correction of errors, its Proposal will be rejected. If there is a discrepancy between words and figures the amount in words will prevail.

Prior to the detailed evaluation, the Purchaser will determine the substantial responsiveness of each Proposal to the Request for Proposals (RFP). For purposes of these Clauses, a substantially responsive Proposal is one which conforms to all the terms and conditions of the RFP without material deviations. The Purchaser's determination of a Proposal's responsiveness is based on the contents of the Proposal itself without recourse to extrinsic evidence.

A Proposal determined as not substantially responsive will be rejected by the Purchaser and may not subsequently be made responsive by the Offeror by correction of the non-conformity.

22. Evaluation and comparison of proposals

Evaluation of proposals shall be done separately for each LOT.

A two-stage procedure will be utilised in evaluating the proposals, with evaluation of the technical proposal being completed prior to any price proposal being opened and compared. The price schedule/financial proposal of the Proposals will be opened only for submissions that passed the minimum technical score of 70% of the obtainable score of 700 points in the evaluation of the technical proposals.

The technical proposal is evaluated on the basis of its responsiveness to the Term of Reference (TOR) and the Instructions to Offerors.

In the Second Stage, the price proposal of all contractors, who have attained minimum 70% score in the technical evaluation, will be compared. The cumulative analysis scheme will be applied with a total score being obtained upon the combination of weighted technical and financial attributes. An Offeror's response to the solicitation document is evaluated and points are attributed based on how well they meet the defined desirable criteria. Cost under this method of analysis is rendered as an award criterion, which will be 30% out of a total score of 1000 of all the desirable factors of the RFP. The contract will be awarded to the offeror obtaining the highest cumulative score. The following formula will be applied in calculating the cumulative score:

$$B = T + \frac{C_{low}}{C} \times 300,$$

where

T – is the total technical score awarded to the evaluated proposal;

C – is the price of the evaluated proposal; and

C_{low} – is the lowest of all evaluated proposal prices among responsive proposals.

Joint Integrated Local Development Program

Training services for Newly Elected Local Officials

A. BACKGROUND

Local councils are considered to be one of the most democratic elements of Moldovan society. Despite this fact, poor preparedness of a great majority of local councilors and mayors to perform their duties and tasks is very frequently identified as a major cause of the low quality of governance in the transition period and, at the same time, main obstacle in speeding up process of local government reform and modernization. This is a shared opinion among experts, chairs of rayons, mayors, public servants and councilors.

Although developing the capacity of local councilors and mayors is recognized as being important in promoting principles of good governance and advancing local autonomy, they received very little attention to date. Building capacity of local councilors and mayors becomes even greater in the view of the past local elections from June 5 and June 19, 2011. Based on the experience from 2007 when more than 8500 local elected officials have been trained in Moldova and such programs organized in other countries, the immediate post election period presents a uniquely beneficial window of opportunity when new incumbents are more open and willing to accept new ideas and to acquire new skills. Beyond the informative goal, orientation sessions for new elected officials have a mobilizing role, facilitating the rapid and efficient transition from previous teams of local councilors to the new one and enhancing further development.

Creating transparent and accountable local governments is the basic condition to achieve good governance. Therefore, getting newly elected local councilors and mayors acquainted with the fundamental principles of local self-governance, human rights and gender equality and achieving a better understanding of the roles they are expected to play is crucial. This will increase the efficiency of local councilors and mayors' activity by getting them actively involved in all aspects of public affairs, improving the quality of decision-making process and setting up a meaningful and continuous dialogue with people from their communities.

In direct response to this interest, the Joint Integrated Local Development Program seeks to meet its strategic objective of supporting the Local Public Administration to operate in a more effective and transparent manner as a means of bringing government and people, including the socially excluded and vulnerable, together in a positive relationship, to participate in the decentralization reform and promote rights based and gender responsive local development. Following this objective, JILD, in cooperation with the State Chancellery of Government of Republic of Moldova and other donor organizations, will organize a series of orientation sessions for the newly elected local officials throughout the entire country

B. OBJECTIVE OF THE ASSIGNMENT
